Imagination

Take,

the deep glow of a gleaming ocean, a sparkle of a fairy's wing and the sweet smelling, hot sun for the shape of the sun.

Take, the tip of the fire's fine ash, the bright colour of the blue sky and the sparkle of a unicorn's horn for the shape of the moon.

Take

the floating stem drifting over the wild, the falling stars of a football pitch and the gleaming evening glow for the shape of the stars.
